WASHOE COUNTY AND ITS MINES.

Interesting Communication on This Subject by a Correspondent of the Journal.

Editor Journal—I presume you are aware of the fact that Washoe county has, ever since its organization, been regarded as an agricultural or cow country, as compared with Storey, Esmeralda, Lander, Eureka and other mining counties.

In fact, I so regarded Washoe county myself until a few days ago, when I had occasion to examine some mining records in the Court House. At once I was attracted to the great number of mines or locations recorded, and having a curiosity to know "how many" I took some pains and time to ascertain the facts as to how much had been done in the way of prospecting, locating mines and mining.

I don't know if you or any one else will believe it but as a matter of fact, since 1872 there were 7127 mining locations made and recorded in Washoe county. Of this number, of course, a great majority were located as gold and silver mines. In addition there were 13 for borax, 70 for copper, 47 for coal, 14 for clambake, 2 for anthracite and 13 for gypsum, together with quite a number of other imaginary minerals. I did not investigate the record previous to 1872 but remembering the mining excitement prevailing during the years from 1859 to 1870 I think it fair to assume that there have been over 12,000 mining locations made at Washoe county since its organization.

Of the 7127 locations made since 1870 you will find that 1697 were in Praxine District, 1610 in Washoe District, 941 in Pyramid District, 736 in White House District. The others were made in districts such as Jumbo, Argentine, Gabona, Steamboat, Alum Canyon, Wood Lake, Granite Point and other places too numerous to mention, except that the Washoe District has to its credit over two hundred mines, although only about two years old. But possibly the most amusing, if not interesting part of the record is SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 1901.

NECESSITY IS A PERSUADER.

Necessity is a persuader that partakes of the nature of force supported by the inevitable. It is pleasant to learn how very patently the Republican press has become since the late decision of the United States Supreme Court, declaring that the Constitution is large enough to cover the earth should it become necessary to use it for a covering. Its ample folds are sufficient to clothe the earth in the garments of liberty, leaving a remainder of sufficient dimensions to reach from earth to Heaven as a conductor of the choicest blessings a Heavenly Father has bestowed on a world clothed in freedom and justice.

The Republican press made a pretense of gladness when it learned that the Supreme Court had measured the Constitution and ascertained that its size was more than sufficient to cover the United States and the Philippines, but there was not a word which came from the Republican party or from the Republican press to lead a patriotic mind in the direction of the Constitution.

There was not sufficient said by either party or press which would have led to a suspicion that the party or press had an idea respecting its size. Paper constitutions were deemed to be worthless rags, which opinion had its origin perhaps in the truth that Constitutions are not printed on National bank note paper.

The party and the press were ignorant of its elastic properties till they were discovered by the court.

There is a pretense that the discovery was not altogether a surprise, as a portion of the party and a part of the press had a vague notion that there was something about the document they did not understand. A failure to properly understand the Constitution has been the chief failure of the party and press from the time the party was organized. How long ignorance of the Constitution will continue when it is not to the interest of those who direct the party to acknowledge the force of its provisions is a question to be determined by events.

THE FIGHT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

The late resignation of the United States Senators Tillman and McLaur, from South Carolina is a source from which there is supply of food for gossip in Republican papers.

It is claimed that these resignations will prove to be an entering wedge to a final breaking up of a Solid South, which will end in a union of the high born in the South with the aristocracy of the North.

The place of union will be the Republican party, where the high born in the South and North will unite to the confusion and ultimate destruction of Bryanism and of the complete overthrow of populism in the South, which is only another name for Bryanism.

Tillman is a Populist, "Low born, rough, and sometimes wanton." To support this charge made against Tillman, General M. C. Butler said as reported, "that Tillman is a Populist, not a Democrat. He has no right to call himself a Democrat." "He is a Populist by birth, in character, in instinct, in method, in association."

Which description is very entertaining matter when taken into relation with, Low born, rough and sometimes wanton." When the political union between the high born Southern and Northern aristocrat has a place within the lines of the Republican party, the political change will be so radical that the country will be ready to enter upon another civil war, which will have a meaning not included in the color line given to the human family, as there will not be a nigger in it.

The change will include a reconciliation of opposing forces which will produce an effect more appalling to an upstart aristocracy than populism or Bryanism ever has been or can be to the exercise of political rights.

The chief objection to Bryanism is its sympathy with the tolling millions, its love of justice, its opposition to enslaving the working man, to schemes for enriching the few, who will constitute the aristocracy within the Republican party when the present union between the high born in the South and the aristocracy of the North is made within the lines of the Republican party.

There is not a child born who will live to see the union for at least one cause, which will be sufficient in itself to prevent any union of Southern men with upstart aristocrats. That one cause is, and will continue to be, the love of intelligent Southern men for Jeffersonian Democracy, which in meaning and compass equals pure

Democracy as near as it is possible to make it its equal under a Republican system. While Southern men have a high regard for position in society, it has its origin in self respect, which in no manner compromises the high regard they entertain for the rights of others, which makes them Democrats by nature and in principle.

ABOUT MINE AND MINER

Notes Gathered From Exchanges About This Industry.

A party of Eastern capitalists departed for the Pinole mines, near Wellington, yesterday.

Ore shipments from Eureka last week aggregated 124 tons and from White Pine county, 47 tons.

Only land believed to be of a non-mineral character can be located and patented as mill site. But if, after patent, a vein is not invalidated.

The Elly Mining and Milling Company's new mill is running steadily and producing good results. Another shipment of cyanides will be made within a few days.—White Pine News.

The first car of machinery for the new mill at the Chairman mining company, at Elly, Nev., has just been forwarded, and will be followed by others as rapidly as possible.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Reports from all parts of the State show that Nevada is enjoying great activity in mining and that the attention of capitalists from all sections of this country, London, Paris and Berlin has been attracted to the great mining possibilities of the Sagebrush State.

Oscar Woodbury with a couple of men went down to the Douglas reservoir Thursday for the purpose of getting a working sample of tailings from the large deposit there. Twenty tons of the tailings will be tried at the Elly plant, and if they can be handled even at a small profit, a plant will be constructed in the old Douglas mill at this place for extracting the values.—Dayton Times.

W. C. Ruddle and T. S. Haunskins returned from Jackson Creek mining district Monday, where they have been inspecting mining claims. They report improved drilling machinery, and expects to make rapid headway with the tunnel. Work is expected to begin the first part of next week.

A carload of concentrates were hauled from the Comstock Tunnel Company's mill at Silver to Dayton this week and shipped to Selby & Co. The concentrates are the result of several weeks run of ore from the tunnel dump and are valued at over $1000 per ton.—Dayton Times.

The boiler and other machinery at Elly's tunnel in Conn has been placed and everything is now almost ready to start the work of drilling by power. Boyle will use the latest improved drilling machinery, and expects to make rapid headway with the tunnel. Work is expected to begin the first part of next week.

NOTICE OF SALE

Of twenty-four shares, or so many thereof, as may be necessary, of the capital stock of the Spanish Springs Valley Ditch Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Nevada, embraced in stock certificate No. 1 (one) originally issued to Henry Orr, now deceased, May 6, 1892. Such sale is to be made of such twenty-four shares of stock, or as many thereof as may be necessary to pay an assessment of two dollars per share on all shares of stock in said company, all of which have been paid except on said above described twenty-four shares.

Said assessment was duly levied by the Trustees of said company on the 5th day of March, 1901, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of said company, to pay for repairs and keeping in repair the ditch of said company in 1901.

Notice of such assessment, made payable on or before the 8th day of April, 1901, was duly published in the Nevada State Journal, a newspaper published daily in Reno, Washoe county, State of Nevada (in which county the said company's ditch property is situated) for the period of four weeks before being payable as aforesaid. That the assessment on said stock, and none of it, has been paid; wherefore notice is hereby given that in consequence of such default in paying such assessment, so many of said shares of said stock as are necessary to pay such assessment and all costs of advertising and selling the same, will be sold at public auction to such persons or persons as will pay said assessment amounting to $48, and such expenses for the smallest number of such shares or portions thereof.

Such sale will be made at front door of the Bank of Nevada between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock, a. m., on the 29th day of June, A. D. 1901, by the Secretary of said company by order of its Trustees.

W. E. LEMMON, Secretary.
By R. S. OSBORN, Deputy.

SPARKS AND HIS MINE

The Reno Star Will be Developed in an Extensive Manner.

A Journal reporter visited the Reno Star mine yesterday and interrogated the owner and superintendent. Much was learned about the property and the manner in which it will be worked, but many of the details must, for obvious reasons, be kept out of print until certain developments take place.

John Sparks stated positively that he had become owner of the mine and had made the first payment. He has appointed C. L. Crane superintendent. Although a mill site has been purchased no mill will be constructed until sufficient depth has been gained to ascertain the nature of the ore below the water level, after which the milling machinery best adapted to working the ore will be ordered.

Almost the entire force has been laid off pending the change in methods of operating the mine.

Work will be resumed in a few days with a considerable force. It is understood that Mr. Sparks has ordered a modern hoist and pump of large capacity. He will sink to great depth and on levels, blocking out a big body of ore before beginning extraction.

Evidently Mr. Sparks' millions and his business sagacity will triumph over the old-fashioned methods. Great activity was noticed at the mill mine. An incline is being sunk in rich chloride ore. Considerable water is coming in. Ground is being prepared for the hoisting works which will be installed this week.

IN HOLY TEMPLES

Services That Will Be Held Today in the Churches of Reno.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE NORTH. Considerable interest has been aroused over the excursion to Susanville tomorrow and many people are planning to take advantage of the cheap rate. The citizens of the beautiful northern town are preparing to treat the visitors from this city with lavish hospitality.

People are often huddled into uncomfortable and crowded cars on occasions of this sort, but the N. O. management are going to look out for the comfort of the excursionists in every possible way.

This is the season when the northern country looks at its best. The ride will be a revelation to those who have never visited Lassen county in the spring time. The same ride will be one of the best features of the trip.

Jail Break Frustrated.

Special to the JOURNAL.
TACOMA, Wash., June 2.—A general jail break at the United States penitentiary on McNeil's Island, was frustrated last night. Two prisoners got into the corridor and were about to attack the guard when the alarm was given and they were overpowered.

MINES AND MINING IN WASHOE COUNTY.

An Interesting Article Prepared and Read as a Thesis by Ralph
B. Stubbs.

For fifty years the State of Nevada has been noted throughout the world for its wonderful mineral resources; and, at the present time, Washoe county, the one county which has been recognized for its agricultural activity, bids fair to become one of the leading mineral resources of the Pacific Coast.

It was not until a very recent date that the annual output from the mines in this county gave results high enough to attract notice, and already money is being invested from outside resources.

In taking up the subject of mines and mining in Washoe county, I intend to treat it in two ways. First, from a geological standpoint, and second, from the standpoint of the development of the mines themselves. To facilitate the handling of the subject I shall divide Washoe county into seven districts, namely: First, The Steamboat District, second, The Peavine District, third, The Pyramid District, fourth, The Olinghouse District, fifth, The Northern District, sixth, The Verdi District, and seventh, The Reno District.

FIRST-STEAMBOAT DISTRICT.

This district lies about twelve miles south of Reno, at the foot of the famous old Geiger Grade, and at the eastern base of Mt. Rose. It is a section of the State that has been investigated and described many times by geologists and scientific men. The United States Government has made investigations near Steamboat Springs, and the best account of the various rock formations in their vicinity can be found in the admirable work of Mr. George F. Becker, on "The Geology of the Comstock Lode." Geologically, this district is of exceptional interest because of its unusual hot spring deposits.

Some mining work was done in the vicinity of these springs as early as 1853, by emigrants from the east and west on their way to the gold fields of California, but the first authentic report of the discovery of any of the precious metals in this section is from a communication by M. Laure to the Academy of Sciences of France in 1863, on the "Ore and Distribution of gold in California." In which he states that deposits of gold had been formed by the action of hot springs on the volcanic rocks west of the Steamboat Springs, in Washoe county, Nevada. It was not until 1871-72 that the Steamboat Springs District was included in the State Mineralogist's Annual Report. In this report mention is made of sulphur and cinnabar mines in this vicinity. These mines were originally discovered by Thomas Wheeler, who located five claims about a mile and a quarter northwest of the Springs. An investigation in this locality shows the thickness of the sulphuriferous mineral belt to be from 800 to 1000 feet. The formation on one side is granite and on the other a siliceous sand rock. The bed itself is of clay and iron, colored red with the deposits of cinnabar. There is no appearance of a vein, but portions of the bed yield appreciable amounts of cinnabar (mercuric sulphide). The probability is that the cinnabar and the sulphur have been disseminated through the clay bed in the form of vapors. Even now, a high degree of heat is encountered a few feet below the surface of this clay bed. In 1877, a report was made of the discovery of croppings containing cinnabar about seven miles southeast of Reno and about five miles west of Steamboat Springs. This discovery was made by John Poe, but the control of his locations was obtained by a company known as the "Nevada State Quick-silver Mining Company." The country rock in this vicinity is a quartz porphyry. The vein is about fourteen feet wide, the walls being plainly visible. The gangue is quartz and in the veins the cinnabar is found crystallized in small grains.

Although more or less prospecting and mining work has been done in this district during the last fifteen or twenty years, it was not until a very recent date that the mines gave promise of developing into paying investments. The early discoveries were made some distance from the Springs, but most of the work at the present time has been done close to the Springs themselves.

The croppings are of pure quartz and the country rock on either side of the vein material appears to be diorite and granite although a considerable quantity of diabase has been found in the form of float. From many drillings in the vicinity of the Springs, large quantities of sulphurets were encountered, evidently formed by the decomposing action of hot water on the sulphides of the metals in the rocks.

The controlling interest in the Steamboat District is owned by a corporation known as the "Great Western Compound and Development Company." This company was organized in 1901, after part of 1900 by Mr. J. W. Hopkins, who is the company's president, and Mr. J. B. Ghent, its secretary. This company owns about 480 acres of patented land in the vicinity of the Springs and its first mining work was done in February, 1901. This work consisted in sinking a 51 foot drill hole, having a diameter of about 4 inches. The drillings are made up of a large percentage of sulphurets and assays about $1000 to the ton. Another drill hole of the same diameter was sunk 120 feet northwest of the first to a depth of 75 feet and the drillings assay in the neighborhood of $4000. North 200 feet and northwest 150 feet, two more drill holes were sunk. The drillings obtained went high in value and still retained the same sulphurets formation. In sinking all of these holes large quantities of seepage water were encountered, which was pumped out as the drilling proceeded. These drill holes have demonstrated the existence of a seam of gold-bearing rock running northerly and southeasterly, having a length of at least 200 feet.

At the time of my investigation, April 15, 1901, a 52 ft shaft had been sunk to a depth of 18 feet, near the Steamboat Hotel, and about 30 feet east of the line of drill holes. All the land with a radius of five miles of the Springs is now located and on the basis of the claims made, prospecting is being done. The general strike of the lead appears to be east and west, with a dip probably to the north. A considerable amount of time as well as quartz and has the appearance of a water-like deposit formed from hot springs. If the work thus far done is carried on, the Steamboat Springs will, in the near future, undoubtedly develop into a flourishing mining camp.

REGARDING FISHERIES

A Communication From One Who Is Interested in the Finny Creatures.

Editor Journal:—Much has been said with the regard to the plating in the Truckee River within our boundaries ten per cent of the eggs taken from the fish therein, by the California Fish Commission.

I wish to demonstrate this matter more clearly that the people of our State may understand what this ten per cent means, as regards the betterment of our fishing interests.

Ten per cent of the eggs of the "Rainbow" variety are to be hatched and the swimming fry planted within our waters. While we get all of the cut-throat or native trout that are hatched at the Verdi station.

Once a year our trout gather together and migrate streams for the purpose of performing their function of reproduction, upon reaching suitable spawning grounds, the eggs are deposited and left under a thin gravelly posited and under a thin gravelly covering during that season of the year when the water is comparatively low and clear. The eggs having now been safely deposited, and it takes a period of from sixty to seventy days to hatch, in the mean time, heavy rains come and the water continues to rise until it has become so high and swift that not one of those eggs could possibly survive. They may be washed away, drowned by insects and predatory fishers, or covered to such a depth as to be entirely lost. Under the above circumstances the eggs perish by millions and nature's superfluity is thus made manifest.

Not more than seven percent of the eggs deposited in the natural way of spawning become fecundated, admitting that all those eggs survive the perils surrounding them on their way to development, they are still by no means out and ready when the little fish break their shell, they are encumbered with an umbilical sac, which is the larger part of them, and they are awkward and clumsy in their movements, and an easy prey to every passing snail.

Realizing their position they strive to comfort themselves by seeking cover, little rock and crevices, where they are preyed upon by the lava of devil's darning needles, water beetles, and every miserable shiner, dace, etc. Therefore, the water is not that good, but that any survive, by the artificial method of propagation, fully eighty or ninety per cent of the eggs are fertilized when placed in the troughs of a hatched factory, a great gain over that of the natural way of spawning, and here they are constantly guarded and protected against all ill. We have no use for the millions of insects that play havoc, and the shiners and dace that are so diligent in search of such "baby morsels."

By the above taking on the Truckee River this year, there has been eleven hundred thousand less eggs for the water bugs to eat, and five hundred and fifty thousand more trout in our streams, and a great many thousands of which are "Rainbows."

J. P. MORRILL,
Deputy Fish and Game Warden.

CHEWING THE RAG.
Some very funny things are being said in the Gazette by its hired people since Mr. Bragg fell ill and has been absent from the office. They are now in a stream of nonsense that play havoc on the minds of those who read the Journal to show up at that shop. If the hired people will take the trouble to dissect Bismarck, the office staff, they will find that this fellow has developed epinephrine faster. For a week ago Bismarck feasted on copies of the Gazette containing the Marion Fitzgerald story, but he became so disgusted with the advice of "Doc" Oden, changed his diet.

THE OFFICIAL BALLOT.
This ballot may be counted for as many votes as the number of names in the space at the top of the word, "Yes," but each vote must be accompanied by five cents.
The expenses, dress etc. of the selected Queen, will of course be paid by the committee and she will be given a grand reception in addition.
The lady receiving the highest number of votes in the State will be declared elected Queen of the Carnival, and the highest in each county will be maid of honor.
There will be plenty of rivalry and Reno says she is going to name the Queen. Reno has any number of handsome women who would certainly honor the occasion.

Official Ballot
For Queen of the Carson City
Carnival and Street Fair,
Carson City, Nevada, July 3, 4, 5, 1901.
Send this ballot with five cents for each vote to Carnival Queen Committee, Carson.
Closest cases to be decided June 26, 1901.
